

What Makes Atlas the Best Choice?

Underwriting Appetite

We have carefully reviewed the portfolio of classes represented by our brokers. While there is a "right price" for each risk, it is Atlas' contention that a portfolio composed of accounts meeting particular target criteria can outperform the overall market. These target criteria include significant analytical research related to the pure premiums and historical performance of each class. Our targets include many classes that we believe provide the best opportunity for rate redundancy & profitability.

Proven Underwriting Practices

With Atlas, you will have access to those who have the authority to make underwriting decisions across all premium levels and classes. This interaction allows us to better understand the exposures involved in a particular risk and identify a solution that meets all the goals of your client. We have industry specific programs for restaurants, hotels, healthcare, landscaping, contracting, and transportation. We offer many different types of solutions based on the client's specific needs and risk.
